SUCCESS

Thanks to the fantastic support of fellow villagers and especially to Sofia and Eva's classmates, the girls raised £260 with the help of big sister Isabella, during half term, for the charity 'Porchlight'. They also gathered a couple of large boxes for the Nourish Foodbank.

The extra people available in Brewer St were also rather handy in herding a flock of escaped sheep back into the field on the day of the sale!

WORLD BOOK DAY-WEAR YOUR PYJAMAS!

Next Thursday is World Book Day

To mark this day everyone is invited to come to school in their pyjamas and bring their favourite bedtime story from when they were very little! The children will be sharing these books with another class as well as other planned book related activities during the day.

We will also be making a special display in school of the most unusual, imaginative and fun places that the children have read in. We would like you to bring in/send via email a photograph of yourself reading in an extraordinary place - the wackier the better! email to: secretary@lamberhurst.kent.sch.uk

In addition to this we would like each pupil to read the Rights of the Reader by Daniel Pennac (below) and have a good think about number 7. The right to read anywhere. Where would you like to read? Have you read a book in the bath, in the shed or up a tree?

The Rights of the Reader

by Daniel Pennac
illustrated by Quentin Blake

1 The right not to read.

2 The right to skip.

3 The right not to finish a book.

4 The right to read it again.

5 The right to read anything.

6 The right to mistake a book for real life.

7 The right to read anywhere.

8 The right to dip in.

9 The right to read out loud.

10 The right to be quiet.

10 rights - 1 warning -
Don't make fun of people who don't read -
or they won't!
